Canadian Security Breached

WASHINGTON (CP) — Canadian Embassy officials said today there must have been a breach of Canadian security regulations in the fact that Senator Wayne Morse has possession of a confidential letter written to the embassy by former prime minister St. Laurent.

An embassy spokesman said the Canadian government has been advised of Morse's possession of the letter, which the Oregon Democrat read into the record of a Senate committee hearing Friday.

"We will do whatever Ottawa instructs us to do," the spokesman said when asked whether the embassy intended to investigate.

Morse read the letter, written by St. Laurent to former Canadian ambassador Arnold Heeney in November, 1956, into the record at a Senate foreign relations committee hearing on Canadian-American relations.

TAX PROTEST
The letter instructed Heeney to deliver to the state department a diplomatic note protesting the U.S. treasury's action in attempting to claim from a Canadian mining company, Premium Iron Ores Limited, $1,000,000 it says the company owes in back U.S. taxes.

Canada claims the company is not taxable by the United States. "I would think very definitely there must have been a breach of security regulations in the fact that a U.S. senator has a copy of a private, confidential letter written by the Canadian prime minister to the Canadian ambassador," the embassy spokesman said.

"You don't expect U.S. senators to read private Canadian correspondence into the record of the United States Senate."

The spokesman said the embassy had no idea how the letter came to be in Morse's possession.

Morse himself could not be reached for comment.

U.S. Senators Criticize Canadian Wheat Policy

WASHINGTON (CP)—Senator Wayne Morse (Dem. Ore.) has declared that the Canadian Parliament should be passing "resolutions of commendation" to the U.S. for selling wheat to underdeveloped countries instead of criticizing U.S. wheat policies. Morse made the statement as the Senate foreign relations committee embarked on a study of frictions between Canada and the U.S. and quickly heard several of its members express resentment against Canadian criticisms of the U.S.

Morse said Canada was "guilty of gross injustice" when she criticized the U.S. for selling wheat to underdeveloped countries for "soft" currencies and said the U.S. was depriving her of foreign markets. The U.S. actually was helping to build up a market in those countries for future Canadian wheat sales.

Canada, Morse said, could not afford to sell wheat for soft currencies and the United States was not happy about "getting kicked in the teeth by Canada for doing something she cannot do."

IMMIGRANT TO ONTARIO CLAIMS 100,000

Un-American Affairs Committee Makes Public Estimate Of Canadian Commies

WASHINGTON (CP)—The un-American affairs committee of the House of Representatives today made public an estimate by a Canadian witness that there are 100,000 Communists in Canada.

The estimate came from Milan Jakubec of Toronto, who described himself as president of the executive council of the Mutual Cooperation League of Canada, made up of 18 various ethnic groups originating behind the Iron Curtain.

Jakubec, Slovakian-born employee of the Ontario government who came to Canada in 1953 and appeared before the committee at his own suggestion, said in testimony taken last April 3 that while it is difficult to say how many Communists there are in any country, he would estimate that there are approximately 100,000 in Canada.

These may be composed from a number of regular members of the Labor-Progressive party, covering the Communist party of Canada, and the rest or a greater part is composed from various innocent-sounding organizations, usually posing as international, humanitarian, pacifist, youth, labor, religious, beneficial, insurance or literary organizations and associations of which there may be in Canada as such.

He estimated there are 23 Communist newspapers published in Canada in various languages. Jakubec claimed also that Communist activities in Canada are financed by $20,000,000 to $30,000,000 which he said Soviet agents collect annually in Canada as "customs duties" from Canadians sending food and clothing parcels to relatives in the Soviet Union.

U.S. CARGO PLANES READY TO EVACUATE AMERICANS

WASHINGTON (AP) — A force of huge cargo planes began heading out of the United States today for Germany. They would be capable of transporting troops into the troubled Middle East or evacuating persons from the area if necessary.

The first of 18 transports began taking off from Donaldson air force base, S.C., this morning, the air force said.

In Germany, the C-124 transports will be at the disposal of the air force commander in Europe for whatever use he needs to make of them.

An air force spokesman was asked if the transports would be used in connection with the evacuation of Americans or for other purposes in riot-ridden Lebanon. He replied tersely: "If needed."

The state department said a short while before that consideration is being given to measures for protecting Americans in Lebanon but that no request for U.S. troops has been received from the Lebanese government.

100,000 Acclaim War Hero's Cause

BULLETIN

PARIS (AP)—The French government, fighting to preserve unity at home and win back a defiant Algeria, suffered a new blow tonight when Gen. Paul Ely, its senior military adviser, resigned his post.

Ely's place will be taken by Gen. Jacques Lorillot, chief of staff of the army, who now will hold both posts.

The cabinet, meeting with the president of the republic in the heavily guarded Elysee Palace, also decided to extend the service of French military conscripts from two years to 27 months.

PARIS (CP) — Premier Pierre Pflimlin today sent a special envoy to Colombey-les-Deux-Eglises the home of Gen. Charles de Gaulle.

The envoy — Marcel Diebold, prefect (governor) of the Haute-Marne Department — conferred with de Gaulle's military aide but did not see the general personally. He then returned to Paris to report.

As Diebold conferred with Capt. Sabot, de Gaulle's aide, news reached Paris that the top Gaullist parliamentary leader, Jacques Soustelle, had reached Algiers.

Earlier de Gaulle accepted a challenge from Pflimlin to clarify his views on solving France's crisis. The general's headquarters announced he would hold a press conference in Paris at 2 p.m. (8 a.m. MST) Monday, his first since 1952 when he announced his retirement from the assembly.

Soustelle, former governor-general of Algeria and close friend of French settlers backing the revolt, tried to fly to Algiers Tuesday night when the crisis began, but was placed under police "protection" in Paris.

"Vive DeGaulle" Algerians Chant

ALGIERS (Reuters) — Jacques Soustelle, a former governor-general of Algeria and ex-Gaullist deputy in the French National Assembly, told the vast throng from the balcony of the main government building: "I decided to return to Algeria and I place myself in the service of French Algeria."

"I have no other ambition than to restore national unity on both shores of the Mediterranean."

"Long live French Algeria, long live France, long live de Gaulle!"

Gen. Raoul Salan, commander-in-chief on French forces in Algeria, was on the balcony and shook Soustelle's hand before he began to speak.

"Only three days ago I was occupying my seat in parliament doing my duty but subject to constant police watch," Soustelle said. "I could no longer do my duty."

"I then decided to join you in Algeria and to return among this army and this people who live only for freedom and the motherland."

Whether this plot was developed with the knowledge of de Gaulle, France's wartime resistance hero now in retirement, was not known.

Green Appointed BCTF Ad Head

William J. R. Green has been appointed advertising manager of B.C. Tree Fruits, succeeding L. C. J. Razzell who has resigned.

Mr. Green has been active in the fruit industry for 30 years, 16 of which he has been employed by the growers' selling agency. For the past three years he has been executive assistant to R. P. Walrod, general manager.

Mr. Walrod also announced that Don Sutherland of Kaleden will take over Mr. Green's former post. For many years he has been manager of the Kaleden Co-operative Packinghouse. He was one of the team of fruit experts who visited Australia, New Zealand and Tasmania last year to study newly-developed methods of bulk handling procedures which are now being put into increasing use in B.C.

No reason was given for Mr. Razzell's resignation. He also declined to elaborate. It is understood his resignation is effective June 30.

Sommers' Case Intensity Mounts

VANCOUVER (CP)—Intensity is increasing in the Sommers bribery-conspiracy trial in supreme court, a trial involving a former provincial minister of the Crown.

When proceedings resumed Tuesday before Mr. Justice J. O. Wilson and jury, the witness again will be Trevor Daniels, former financial chief of B.C. Forest Products, one of four accused companies.

Daniels' testimony Friday that his former company had paid $30,000 for a government timber licence produced one of the stormiest of the eight days of the trial so far. It was punctuated by legal arguments which saw the jury sent out of the court three times and Daniels himself once requested to leave while legal points were argued.

CROSS-EXAMINED
Daniels faced cross-examination by the battery of six lawyers defending former lands and forests minister Robert Sommers, H. W. Gray, John Gray, C. D. Schultz, Pacific Coast Services Limited, Evergreen Lumber Sales and B.C. Forest Products.

Daniels testified Friday that the late president of B.C. Forest, Hector Munro who died last December, told him in 1953 that an arrangement had been made for the company to obtain a forest management licence.

But he said Munro told him that B.C. Forest would have to pay $20,000 to Mr. Gray, part of all of which was to go to Mr. Sommers. He said he told Munro it was a foolish arrangement and that when the presi-

"Sleep Apples" Are Released

YAKIMA, Wash. (AP)—Eight carloads of apples "put to sleep" last fall in a special air-conditioned tent were brought out this week and credited with their original snap and flavor.

The apples, Red Delicious and Winesap, spent the winter in a huge airtight tent of heavy film, set up in a large storage room by the Stubbins-Lamb Fruit Co.

Sidney Reese, firm member, said the fruit will be marketed as special quality stock and it is hoped at higher prices.

In the special tent the "breathing activities" of the fruit were reduced to a minimum by drawing off almost all oxygen and controlling air condition and circulation exactly.

Bridge Opening Could Mean Many New Sales For Retailers

The impact of the bridge opening celebration has not yet been fully appreciated here. Locally there has been talk of a crowd of ten or fifteen thousand, but those people in a position to make a reasonable assessment claim that an July 19th between thirty and forty thousand people will be here!

This estimate is based upon the reaction to date and the fact that many—thousands—of people will come to see Princess Margaret not only from the interior of British Columbia but from the adjoining states of Washington and Oregon as well. Our friends south of the border are keen on royalty, much as they disparage the idea. It has been already demonstrated that many of the top officials of these states and members of the chambers of commerce along "97" south of the border are planning to attend. And the build-up has not even started as yet. The same situation exists to the north; fifty people from Quesnel have already made plans to be here. And so it goes.

While this is gratifying it does pose problems. It clearly indicates that the bridge-opening weekend will not be a Kelowna affair, it will be an Okanagan affair. Every hotel and motel in the Valley will be booked to capacity.

The ceremony itself will take but a small part of the day. Presumably most visitors will also take advantage of the opportunity of driving across the bridge and back "for free". It is also quite probable that many of them will remain in Kelowna for the Vancouver Lions' football game which is scheduled for that evening.

All this means there will be a good many thousands of people in holiday mood who will be wandering around the streets looking for something to do. We would suggest that the Kelowna retail stores have never had, nor will probably ever have such an opportunity to make their cash registers ring with "foreign money". The crowds here will have time and incentive to buy; they will be anxious to "shop" and once a woman starts shopping she spends money, be it on a pair of shoes for junior, a souvenir, a dress, or some other article which time and place suggest.

There has been, as far as we are aware, no plans made by Kelowna retailers regarding that day. However, were we in the retail business, we would want to stay open that day until nine in the evening, closing for an hour during the time of the bridge opening ceremony. We would want to do this to take advantage of the completely new, if temporary, market available in the thousands of persons who will have time to kill in Kelowna that day. There is available money, available sales to be made, if the opportunity is taken by the forelock. It is money passing the doors of retail establishments and must be coaxed in that day or it is lost to local retailers forever.

There is going to be an opportunity handed local retailers of every description (including groceries) to make their cash registers tingle with the happy chimes of unexpected and off-the-beat sales. Whether local retailers want to take advantage of the opportunity or not, is a matter for them to decide. Some may and some may not. However, this newspaper does feel that all rules and regulations about opening and closing hours should be suspended for July 19th and allow each merchant to do as he pleases that day, open or shut.

The opportunity for additional sales is going to be available. The retailer interested in taking advantage of the opportunity should be able to do so.

American Newspapers Give Scant Attention To Canada

By GEORGE KITCHEN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON (CP) — A story that made top news in Canadian newspapers—both on the news and the editorial pages—A Canadian Press survey of several hundred newspapers indicated U.S. editors, on the whole, made little use of a May 4 congressional committee report which criticized Americans for their lack of interest in Canada. Approximately 1,700 daily newspapers are published in the U.S.

The study produced only a handful of editorials. Newspaper use of stories based on the report itself was better but still not good considering that the report was addressed to Americans and designed to influence American attitudes toward Canada.

UNWITTING SUPPORT
American newspapers thus gave unwitting support to the statement by Congressmen Brooks Hays (Dem., Ark.) and Frank Coffin (Dem., Me.) of the House foreign affairs committee that the U.S. press pays little attention to Canada and its problems.

Those editorial writers who did comment—the sampling produced approximately a dozen—expressed hope the difficulties between Canada and the U.S. could be resolved and stressed the need for closer and firmer relations between the two countries.

Most of them linked the congressional report with President Eisenhower's proposed visit to Ottawa in July and said they hoped his talks with Prime Minister Diefenbaker would produce a better understanding.

SUGGEST FREE TRADE
Some suggested both countries were at fault for the irritations developing between them, though the Hays-Coffin report itself clearly put the blame on American attitudes and ignorance about Canadians and their heritage.

One or two suggested the establishment of a free trade area between the two countries, with no obvious awareness of the effect of a flood of duty-free, mass-produced American goods on Canadian industry and the Canadian economy.

Representative editorial comment follows:
New York World-Telegram: The erosion "should be stopped, not because it is the prelude to anything like a serious break but because it prevents these two great neighbors from making maximum contributions to the free world's struggle for peace."

"For 13 post-war years Americans have preached, and often meant, to tear down economic, financial and political frontiers between them, despite their different cultures, languages, economies, etc."

"Why not follow some of our own advice?"
"Why shouldn't there be a free trade area between the United States and Canada?"

Washington Evening Star: The Hays-Coffin report "emphasizes something that cannot be stated too often, namely, that there is an interdependence between the two countries which must never be overlooked if security and economic well-being are to be preserved."

Washington Post and Times Herald: "By the end of the century Canada can achieve major power status as her present astounding rates of growth are maintained. The enormous investment of American capital in Canada contributes importantly to this growth, however irritating the unavoidable degree of outside control may be. This is how the United States got its start."

Philadelphia Evening Bulletin: "It will be helpful if everybody will refrain, just this once, from greeting the announcement of the Eisenhower visit with tributes to the imperishable friendship linking the two countries."

"This sort of thing is exactly what is not wanted. The complacent feeling that nothing, not even neglect, could harm this friendship is what has made this state visit necessary."

Syracuse (N.Y.) Post-Standard: "We are not all convinced that it feeling exists to the extent pictured, or that Canada is engaged in retaliatory steps solely for the purpose of putting the United States in its place because her imports exceed her exports."

"Anti-Americanism, if it existed, must stem largely from Communist propaganda."
Milwaukee Journal: "If (Americans) have taken Canada and Canadians too much for granted, it is just as they take good friends for granted. The sin is one of omission, not commission. But mistakes must be corrected, wounded feelings salved. The United States and Canada are too interdependent in every way they arise."

ON NIXON TRIP:
Charge U.S. Knew Trouble Brewing

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Eisenhower administration apparently had reason to believe that Vice-President Nixon might run into trouble in South America, but misjudging how much, didn't even think of calling off his trip.

If this assumption is correct, it seems to be, after what maximum contributions to the free world's struggle for peace, press conference Wednesday.

For 13 post-war years Americans have preached, and often meant, to tear down economic, financial and political frontiers between them, despite their different cultures, languages, economies, etc."

"Why not follow some of our own advice?"
"Why shouldn't there be a free trade area between the United States and Canada?"

NOT ALL RED-CAULD
Eisenhower himself didn't attempt to blame what happened to Nixon entirely on the Communists, for he said, "I don't think there is any single cause, there are economic causes." The president indicated that the possibility of Nixon facing trouble in South America was talked over before he went. Perhaps nothing worse was expected than some anti-U.S. shouts and pamphlets.

"No one, I think, anticipated the violence of particularly this last riot (in Venezuela) and I think possibly everybody there was a bit caught by surprise," he said.

Everybody here was certainly caught by surprise.
Nixon has been thinking of making a goodwill trip to Europe in the fall, and Eisenhower was asked in view of what has just happened — if he thought there was any need for Nixon to reconsider his fall trip.

MORE CAREFUL
Eisenhower said: "I wouldn't think so."
It's a pretty good bet that before Nixon goes to Europe—if he goes—the administration will do a lot more thinking about its dangerous possibilities, and a lot more investigating beforehand, than it devoted to his South American tour.

TEACHERS' SALARIES
Editor,
The Kelowna Courier.
Dear Sir: I would be very much obliged if you will publish the following letter in your valuable newspaper, the Courier.

First, I would like to congratulate you on your editorial on Wednesday re "P-TA Call Public Meeting." How right you were on the outcome of this meeting. The only deviation that I could see was that it seemed to me that there were far more teachers than parents at the meeting, and in my humble opinion if the attitude and actions of some of the teachers when the trustees were speaking and answering questions was any criterion they are presently being over-paid. Although they put up the excuse of higher education costing so much more, they leave one with the impression that their only aim is to make money and if given the chance they will still be after more a year from now. They will still carry on the old game of playing one district against the other for higher salaries.

What amazes me is that the teachers seem to have lost all consideration for the local taxpayers. They have no thought for the old age pensioners who in these times have quite a time to make ends meet; also the great number of elderly people who have retired and come to this beautiful city of ours before infirmity set in. These people are really feeling the pinch.

The teachers do not stop to consider that Kelowna is not an industrial or railway town such as Penticton or Kamloops. We mainly depend on the fruit industry and agriculture.

The teachers have their pensions and security and when the government informs us that the average income in Kelowna is only $3,200.00 it appears to me the teachers have very little to complain about. I think this talk of mass resignation is just honey, because at the present time with all the unemployment and other food strikes that are taking place and others threatened, B.C. is not in any too good shape financially and from the looks of things will be much worse before getting better.

I would like to congratulate the school trustees and also thank them for the forthright manner of placing the information and ratepayers thereby giving them the proper and full information which is their due as they are the ones who have to pay the bill. Furthermore I think that we, the public, should feel grateful at the present time to the school trustees who as a general rule are very busy citizens performing an arduous job in a very admirable manner, giving a great deal of time and energy without pay or other considerations. Their task today is made more difficult than it used to be owing to curtailed powers and the department of education having so much more to say which causes more or less a squeeze between trustees and the teachers.

The trustees as shown at the meeting have gone into this question of salaries and incomes very thoroughly so let us, the ratepayers of Kelowna, get behind our elected trustees and give them our full support which in fair play they should have.

As a last thought: How many business executives are drawing

REVERSE SCALE

The Editor,

The Kelowna Courier,

Kelowna, B.C.

Dear Sir:

After observing what the salaries are for teachers in the district, I cannot help but feel that if any necessary big increases are given to the teachers it should not be given to those who are earning $6,000 and over a year. It should be given mainly to those who are presently earning from $2,750 to $4,500. This would seem more reasonable to me. I am sure that my children learn as much and get as good an education (if not better) from teachers who have taught four or five years as they do from those who have taught 15 years or more.

Because of this and various other reasons I feel that the big increments should be given during the first few years of teaching. It is not the teachers at the top of the salary scale who are leaving the district to go elsewhere or who are dropping out of the profession at an alarming rate, but the teachers at the bottom of the salary scale.

They are the ones who must be provided for most at this time if we are to retain them and attract new people to the profession.

Sincerely,

A PARENT.

Hon. patrons again are His Honour, the Lieutenant-Governor of B.C., Frank Ross and Hon. W. A. Bennett, premier of B.C. Vice-presidents are R. Blackburn, of Enderby - Armstrong branch; G. M. Watt, Kelowna branch and Mrs. R. B. White, Penticton branch. Mrs. Vera Bennett, Penticton, again was chosen secretary. Guy P. Bagnall, Vernon, treasurer and Mr. Jenner, Vernon, auditor.

Comprising the editorial committee are: Mrs. G. Bagnall, Vernon, Mrs. White, Penticton; Mrs. M. Middleton, Osoyoos; Mrs. D. Gellatly, Westbank; H. W. Corbett, Kaleden; T. MacDougall, Kelowna; R. J. ### CENTENNIAL BOOKLETS

Branch reports revealed keen public interest in this centennial year, with many communities publishing booklets containing the history of their particular area. In his presidential report Mr. Whitham mentioned that reports of the OHS have been greatly in demand for months back, and have proved invaluable in compiling local histories.

Sincere appreciation to press and radio for their part in publicizing OHS information and announcements was voiced by the president and acclaimed by the meeting.

Printing of the 1958 report was left in the hands of the executive and editorial committee, as also was the time of the 1959 annual meeting, which will be held in Kelowna.

NAMING BRIDGE

An interesting discussion concerning a name for Okanagan Lake bridge occupied a little time, and several suggestions were forthcoming. Mrs. White mentioned as a possibility an Indian name such as "N'quall," the Indian chief at the head of the lake in fur-trade days, who was given lands and medals by George III. The name Bennett Bridge was felt to be too limited; besides which it was said a bridge at Gilpin already bears that name.

Other names worthy of mention include Pandosy and Gillard, both of which have to do with early days in the valley, and particularly the Kelowna area. Mr. Blackburn, of Enderby, recalled his schooldays in Kelowna and standing where the Aquatic now is and remarking to his companions that: "If we live long enough we'll see a bridge across this lake."

DRINKING BOAT DRIVERS WILL ALSO FIND THE LAW IS TOUGH

Old adage that gasoline and alcohol don't mix will apply on water as well as on land.

And it applies to Okanagan lake and any other waterways in this area just the same as all across Canada. Drinking drivers behind the wheel of a power boat now face jail terms, according to new transport department regulations which give more power to police in patrolling waterways.

The regulations, just received by the water safety section of the B.C. Safety Council, also provide for hit and run, failing to stop at an accident and dangerous driving.

Maximum penalty for the offences is a fine up to $500, or six months in jail. Courts also are empowered to prohibit convicted boat drivers from operating their craft for one year.

All boats, with motors over 10 horsepower, must be licensed, the department has decreed.

U-Turn Island Being Considered By Council

Changes that would, if approved, provide for a widening of the island would be beneficial to Bernard Avenue at the lake end and a U-turn at that spot would be sufficiently distant from the drafting board stage.

Ald. Jack Treadgold disclosed at Thursday's city council meeting that consideration is being given to using part of the property on which the former museum stood to widen Bernard Avenue and allow for installation of a stop sign after turning into the proposed island in the middle of the roadway.

The island closer to the city. If this plan is adopted, it would centre would be triangular in shape, growing from a pointed angle at the east end of it to Abbott and Lawrence.

The bidding:
East 1♣ South 1♥ West 3♥ North 4♥

Opening lead—three of clubs.

The messages that can be transmitted in a sound partnership, whether during the bidding or play, are certainly remarkable.

The limited vocabulary of some sixteen words that can be used during the bidding is sufficient to enable a skilled partnership to arrive at the best contract in the overwhelming majority of hands.

During the play period, when silence is the order of the day, only the cards themselves can be eloquent in the exchange of information between the defending pair.

The defenders can speak their piece effectively in many ways. Conventions that have been employed over the years often help greatly in solving defensive problems.

Items which the common sense of a situation could not.

A choice of plays which appears to be only guesswork can many times be successfully worked out in a sensitive partnership. The rapport which should exist between partners can save many points that might otherwise be lost.

Here is a simple example of partnership cooperation where all that is required is the proper use and interpretation of a convention introduced a quarter century ago.

West opens his singleton club which East wins with the ace to return the deuce. West ruffs. If he returns a diamond, the contract is defeated because he obtains another club ruff, but if West returns a spade, declarer makes the contract.

The convention to guide West in such a position is simple enough. All that is required is that both defenders be familiar with it.

Since East can choose any club to return for the hoped-for ruff, he selects the one to play which will indicate the suit he wants returned.

The return of a low club indicates East wants the low-ranking cards of the two side suits, diamonds and spades, returned. Hence, the device is led, asking for a diamond lead back when West ruffs.

If East's entry card were the ace of spades, he would return the ten of clubs, asking for spades, the higher-ranking suit. High-high; low-low.

YOUR HOROSCOPE

By ESTRELLITA

FOR TOMORROW

A tendency toward stubbornness and irritability could mar the morning hours — if you permit. But let tact and diplomacy prevail and you can smooth a lot of ruffled feathers. Most persons will be in more congenial mood in the evening.

FOR THE BIRTHDAY

If tomorrow is your birthday, your horoscope indicates that while, except for brief periods early in June, late in September and late in October, the aspects are not particularly stimulating for either job or money matters, you still could make the balance of this year and the early part of next prove profitable, if you use the next seven months for building firm foundations. Make up your mind to use this period for systematizing and reorganizing — in all things taking the long-range view. Don't expect any spectacular "windfall." Your chart certainly does not indicate them.

Personal relationships are under friendly auspices, however, and, except for a brief period early in November, when it would be wise to be wary of dealings with business associates, you will find matters running smoothly — particularly where social and family activities are concerned.

A child born on this day will be ambitious, trustworthy and endowed with a great sense of responsibility.

THE DAY AFTER TOMORROW

Be careful in written matters now. There are tendencies toward mistakes and miscalculations — especially where business agreements are concerned. In personal affairs, however, you should experience good doing.

FOR THE BIRTHDAY

If Monday is your birthday, your chart shows fine characteristics which should be of great help to you in the months ahead — notably: practicality, determination and the ability to rise above obstacles. Use these assets well — especially during the next seven months, when your progress, both monetarily and and jobwise, may not only be slow, but periodically retarded through setbacks. By doing your best, in spite of these, you will not only counteract adverse influences, but will help to build a more solid foundation for the future.

Travel and some stimulating social activities should enliven the months of August and September, and all of your interests should take a definite turn for the better next January — beginning with a "luck break" late in December.

A child born on this day will be sensitive, sincere and devoted to home and family.

FOR TUESDAY

"THIS" day's planetary vibrations suggest caution in dealings with others — especially in the P. M. There are tendencies toward both stress and stubbornness on the part of some and, aggravated, they could cause you trouble, be especially diplomatic in dealing with superiors.

For the Birthday

If tomorrow is your birthday, your horoscope indicates that it would be advisable for you to carefully evaluate your financial status NOW and, if you are not satisfied, to start adopting a more realistic attitude where budgetary matters are concerned. Except for brief periods in June and September, you will not have many chances to record gains in 1958, so cut your cloth accordingly.

The balance of this month, and late September, will be good periods for romance, and mid-July is favorably to travel. If you put forth your best efforts between now and then, October should be notable for tangible evidences of job progress but, in all things, maintain a conservative policy during November and early December. Some good news at the end of December should, however, help you to get off to a good start in the new year.

A child born on this day will be a well-adjusted, energetic, and a highly retentive memory, both monetarily and

Sputnik III May Have Video Eye

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The question of whether Russia's Sputnik III has television eyes to spy on the earth has been raised by Dr. J. M. Levitt, director of Fels Planetarium. He suggested that the very weight of the new Soviet satellite leaves the impression the 1½-ton "moon" is equipped with a camera.

"With that kind of payload the satellite could not only carry a full-scale TV system," said Dr. Levitt, "but also a power supply to operate it, plus a stabilizing device to keep the camera pointed toward the earth."

Dr. Levitt emphasized that he was only guessing as to the kind of equipment Sputnik III is carrying, but said that if the U.S. orbited such a heavy satellite it most certainly would have TV.

UBC Makes It Official; Hubble Wins Scholarship

Formal awarding of the 1958 Rhodes Scholarship for University of B.C. to Sidney Wayne Hubble has now been announced by the university.

First announcement was carried in the Daily Courier earlier this year. Wayne is a fourth year history and economics student at UBC and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. S. V. Hubble, 1631 Ethel St.

This awarding was only one of scores formally announced for UBC graduates who will be among the 1,104 students who will receive degrees at the forty-third annual spring congregation May 20 and 21.

Highest award—the Governor-General's gold medal as head of the graduating class in arts and science—went to 21-year-old Gael Harling Stott of Victoria. She was also awarded a $1,400 Woodrow Wilson Foundation award and a $1,000 National Research Council bursary.

Included among other award winners were the sons of two UBC deans.

Gordon Baillie Shrum, son of

S. W. HUBBLE

Dr. Gordon Shrum, head of the faculty of graduate studies and of the department of physics, receives the Law Society's gold medal and prize for heading the graduating class for bachelor of law.

John F. Chant, son of Dean S. N. F. Chant of the faculty of arts and science, was offered a $1,400 Woodrow Wilson award and a $2,800 award from the department of economics at Duke University.

Nine Killed On Roads In 24 Hours

MELROSE, Minn. (AP)—Five persons were killed in an automobile smashup here Friday, including a Texas man, his wife and his sister returning from a trip to Canada.

The accident was the worst of three that killed nine persons in the bloodiest 24 hours of the year on Minnesota highways.

A car carrying Gerald L. Jewett, 59, Webster, Texas, his wife, Effie, 67, and Mrs. Lucille A. Chambers, 73, Clinton, Ill., Hewitt's sister, collided with one occupied by Mrs. Abbie Geelon and O. J. Pruden, both of St. Paul, Minn.

Eskimo, Indian Work As Team In Watch Dept.

GRANDE PRAIRIE, Alta. (CP)—An Eskimo from Aklavik in the Northwest Territories and an Indian youth from northern Manitoba are working side by side here in the watch-repair department of a jewelry store.

They are Harry Kigiona, 30, who grew up in Aklavik, and Jack Chubb, 29, from God's Lake, Man.

Their stories parallel each other from the time they left their homes to receive treatment for tuberculosis.

Once recovered, both enrolled in the watch-making class at the Winnipeg technical institute the same year.

Jack graduated first, in February, 1957. A few days after graduation, he joined the watch-repair department of C. S. Hook and sons in this northwestern Alberta centre.

That June, Harry Kigiona graduated and soon joined his classmate.

HOLIDAY BEDS

VICTORIA DAY

weekend from 6 p.m. (EDT) Friday, to 12 midnight, Monday. The city and district, a gay mood will prevail. The main street of Kelowna is decked in flags that have been out for weeks as part of the centennial observance.

The UBC Players are presenting a three-act comedy at the Empress Theatre tonight.

Highlight of the Kelowna Victoria Day festivities will be the annual Gyro pet parade, starting at 9:30 a.m. Monday. Hundreds of children—and a few adults—will have pets in the parade through the park, seeking some of the valuable prizes offered for winners in several classifications. Races for the children will wind up the "doings."

CENTENNIAL DAYS

In the district, Rutland will draw the most attention as the community's centennial celebration for the year begins tonight.

Tonight's banquet will begin at 6 o'clock at the high school cafeteria.

Tomorrow's activities at Rutland will consist of games in the softball tournament, through the afternoon and early evening, and a junior baseball game.

Monday—officially centennial day in Rutland—will see a full day of activities, beginning at 9:30 a.m. One of the main features will be the parade at 11 a.m. The softball tournament will wind up during the day and a band concert and open square dancing as well as a fireworks display in the evening will cap off the full day of excitement for young and old.

Westbank and Peachland have combined for a memorable Monday that will be the centennial day of the year for that area. Merry-making events will include the pet parade at 10:30 a.m., crowning of a May Queen and Maypole dancing, square dance displays, track and field events, a women's softball game and men's tug-of-war winding up with a dance. The entire jamboree takes place in Peachland.

FRENCH CRISIS

not known. De Gaulle's only statement has been a cryptic announcement that he holds himself ready to take over "the powers of the republic."

DE GAULLE SILENT

In asking for the 90-day emergency powers, Pflimlin issued an open challenge to de Gaulle to explain whether he would agree to march to power with the aid of a coup. The general remained silent.

Pflimlin was granted the emergency powers by a 461-to-114 vote of the National Assembly and approval, 211 to 94, in the Council of the Republic (senate).

Jules Moch, a tough old Socialist who beat down Communist riots in Paris 10 years ago, was moved back to his old job as interior minister. That gives him control of the police and the Surete.

The two arrested air force generals were identified by reliable sources as Lt.-Gen. Andre Challe, air deputy to the head of France's joint chiefs of staff, and Brig. Jacques Martin, Challe's deputy. Presumably they were involved in rightist moves against the government.

TROOPS MUST REPEAT

In another move to control powerful and possibly rebellious military chiefs who might rally round de Gaulle, the defence ministry ordered all troops on leave in France to report to the nearest military district commander.

A mob of about 20,000 Algerians and Moslem women marched from the Casbah (native quarter) into the European sector of Algiers Friday night to shout support for Gen. Raoul Salan, French commander-in-chief in Algeria, and de Gaulle. Placards said the mile-long parade was organized by the Casbah's own public safety committee.

The Casbah long was a stronghold of Algerian nationalist terrorism, but severe repression by Massu's paratroopers is believed to have cleaned out most vocal opponents of France.

Man Convicted Second Time Assaulting Wife

A district resident was fined a total of $200 on two charges arising out of a struggle with his wife. It was the second time this year that Irvin W. Willman had appeared in district police court as a result of domestic troubles at home.

Convicted of common assault on his wife, Willman was fined $150, or in default 30 days imprisonment. On a charge of breach of recognizance, Stipendiary Magistrate Donald White fined him an additional $50, or in default an extra 30 days.

Willman, who had been bound over early this year to keep the peace for 12 months, may yet lose his $200 bond. He was required to post a $500 bond this time and enter into a new recognizance to keep the peace for 12 months.

Survey Shows One Out Of Four Water Wells Are Contaminated

Results of a survey by F. Alcock, sanitarian for the South Okanagan Union Board of Health, indicate that at least one out of four wells in Kelowna's fringe areas is subject to contamination. Health officials have stated that there is an urgent need for a safe chlorinated water supply to serve these areas at an early date.

Results of the survey, conducted during the past ten years, are as follows:
Of 86 water samples tested in the Woodlawn area, 19.7 per cent showed contamination.
Of 66 water samples tested in the Five Bridges area, 27.2 per cent showed contamination.
Of 186 water samples tested in the Okanagan Mission area, 27.4 per cent showed contamination.
Of 133 wells tested in the South Pendozi-Mission Creek district, 24 per cent showed contamination.

Of 111 water samples tested in the Beauvillan area, 27 per cent showed contamination.
Of 148 water samples tested in the Ellison-Oyama area, 40 per cent showed contamination.
Of 490 water samples tested in the Rutland area, 43 per cent showed contamination. This area is now being served by a domestic water system.

Must Sell Service To Govt. VON Told

VANCOUVER (CP)—The president of the Victorian Order of Nurses for B.C. says the organization must sell its service to the provincial government.

Mrs. Dudley S. Markham told the nurses' fifth annual convention in Vancouver here yesterday that working with the government is necessary under the hospital insurance plan being drafted between the federal and provincial governments.

The new plan will cover nursing service out of hospitals, as well as in, she said. It may be in operation by July 1.

The convention was told a total of 1,079,562 visits were paid to 125,420 cases by the Victorian nurses in 1957. Care was extended to 35,000 mothers and an equal number of babies.

KATIE KOURIER SAYS

"Let's face it," said George Zukerman, bassoonist with the Vancouver Symphony, surveying the empty seats, "hockey is more popular than music." There were a lot of empty seats, and they should have been filled, this being the first performance of the symphony in Kelowna. Many people here have never heard a symphony orchestra, except on their radios. Although it was in the nature of a "Pops" concert, this type of entertainment seems to attract a minority group almost anywhere.

Hockey or baseball can easily be followed by anyone, from the oldest to the youngest, and for most people it is a lot more fun to shout themselves hoarse and generally let down their hair watching the hometown team striving to bring home the bacon, than it is to sit stiffly and stuffily (being frowned upon by the diehards for so much as rattling a program) listening to fine music, which takes a certain amount of understanding. A well rounded person probably enjoys both. One of Kelowna's finest musicians is also an ardent hockey fan.

If you are renovating your kitchen this spring, and your house is predominantly feminine, I would advise against having a spray attachment put on the kitchen sink. It immediately becomes a mecca for hair-washing, and you are continually battling a hairy sink. Inevitably, the time comes when a younger member forgets to clean up after washing her beautifully long pony tail. I had the embarrassing experience of serving a visiting aunt (childless) strawberries that had been cleaned by one of the children, in a hair-ridden sink. We thought she would never come to the end of that hair, as she pulled it slowly upwards from the dish, the look of horror on her face grew with each inch of hair. The offending pony-tail member was unabashed. She just laughed and laughed, and thought it was a huge joke.

I am ashamed of the School Board's attitude towards our teachers. Was it necessary to publish individual names, along with salaries? Wouldn't the general wage scale, for each class of teacher, have served the same purpose? It almost looks like some sort of childish retaliation. Surely our educators—men and women of the highest calibre—deserve the highest respect of the community. This is not a depressed area. Why should they be the lowest paid in prosperous British Columbia? There is no doubt in my mind but that we have some of the finest teachers in the province, and we should do everything in our power to keep them here.

(Editor's Note: Under the present system, some school board will always be at the bottom. It is inevitable. Which should that be, Katie?)

Kelowna has certainly wallowed in Peyton Place this week. It is arriving in package lots (I saw them) at the bookstores, and is on (at advanced prices) at the movies. Something is wrong somewhere when trash comes in by the carton. We censure our young people for the things they do today, and at the same moment dangle temptation in front of their noses in the form of cheap novels and lurid pictures and expect them to come through unscathed.

Aided considerably by our Okanagan sunshine, the hospital fair was a tremendous success. Summer dresses were in new bloom, and swarms of children romped everywhere. The buggy, the cutter, and the old fashioned costumes created the centennial atmosphere. A new innovation this year, and quite stealing the show, was Marg O'Donnell's brainchild, the pony ride.

The school band, very trim in their red uniforms, played during the afternoon. It is an excellent band. Kelowna is indeed fortunate to have a teacher like Mark Rose.

Did you put your begonias out too early? I thought I knew more than Mr. Rice, and so I did too. The leaves have white spots. However, I did the same thing last year and they survived. If it drops below 40, cover them lightly with newspapers. That beautiful pink-blossoming hedge bordering Strathcona park, Mrs. A. tells me, is common-as-dishwater Tartarian Honeysuckle. The entire hedge was moved out in the flood of '48 and put back again. It grows absolutely anywhere.

I hope you read these quotations carefully, as I put a lot of thought into their selection. My original idea was to quote from women only, but I find the women haven't much to say! "Learn to be pleased with everything; with wealth, so far as it makes us of benefit to others; with poverty, for not having much to care for; and with obscurity, for being unenvied." —Plutarch.

Townsend At Tea Revives Rumors

LONDON (Reuters) — Court circles buzzed today with new rumors of royal romance following another meeting between Princess Margaret and Peter Townsend.

The divorced war hero slipped quietly into Clarence House Thursday for his second meeting with the Queen's sister since returning from a 60,000-mile world tour in March.

Few persons saw him come or go, and a Buckingham Palace spokesman said only that it was "an ordinary private call."

But it was enough to revive reports that the handsome 43-year-old retired RAF group captain was still determined to press his suit for the hand of the pretty 27-year-old princess who sadly turned him down more than two years ago in a "duty before love" decision.

Marian Morrine Ferguson and Nancy Elizabeth Drake of Kelowna and Kathleen Mary Graves of Okanagan Mission received their R.N.'s. Doris Wilma Sutherland of Kelowna graduated as a laboratory technician. The graduation ceremony held at the Georgia Auditorium was most impressive, and a very inspiring address was given to the graduates by Mrs. Rex Eaton, O.B.E.

Following the ceremony, parents attended a reception at the Nurses Residence. For the graduates there was still the excitement of a banquet at the Hotel Vancouver and a dance at the Hotel Georgia to follow later in the week.

Prairie Bible Institute Team Visits Bethel Baptist Church

A Gospel team from the Prairie Bible Institute, Three Hills, Alberta, Canada, will be at Bethel Baptist Church on Sunday, May 18 at 7:15 p.m.

The team is headed by Rev. C. Dean Brown, a Prairie faculty member. Other members of the group are Ken Leuf, Rolin Weeks, Ed Brainerd, and Robert Snyder as pianist. Mr. Brown is the speaker for the party, and the others provide variety of sacred music.

Prairie Bible Institute, which the team represent, began in 1922 with an enrollment of eight students. This interdenominational Bible school and high school now has an attendance of approximately one thousand.

TRAINS MISSIONARIES

Prairie is a real missionary training school. Over one thousand and former students are serving on the foreign mission field, and hundreds are engaged in pastoral and other Christian service in Canada and the United States. The Principal of the Institute, L. E. Maxwell, is well known in religious circles as a Bible teacher, editor of the Prairie Overcomer, and author of three books, Born Crucified, Crowded to Christ, and Abandoned to Christ.

In 1949, Mr. Brown graduated from Bible School in Ardmore, Oklahoma. After graduation, he became pastor of the Beacon Baptist Church in Wichita Falls, Texas. He then spent one year in rural mission work in Colorado. During the following five years, he pastored the Grace Bible Church in Pueblo, Colorado. Since joining the Institute staff in January, 1956, his services have been in demand by many local congregations. In addition to the above, he has also had some experience in summer Bible camps.

Robert Snyder, piano accompanist for the group, is a staff member. Ken Leuf of Three Hills, Alberta and Rolin Weeks of Nebraska are seniors, and Ed Brainerd of Illinois is a junior. These young men sing duets and solos as well as provide instrumental numbers.

Some 25 members comprise this exceedingly busy organization headed this year by president Mrs. Clarence Fenton. Mrs. John A. Brown is vice-president. Mrs. Milton Reece, secretary; and Mrs. J. K. Wood, treasurer.

Especially busy in organizing this spring event are Mrs. Fenton, Mrs. John Paynter, Mrs. W. C. MacKay, Mrs. Brown and Mrs. R. Spangier. None of the group is idle, however, either in this sale or in other activities carried out during the year, including the fall bazaar and a number of minor events.

NEW DEADLINE

BEGINNING next week, because the Daily Courier does not reach residents of outlying districts until the day after publication, news of local and district churches will run on Fridays. ## Korean Children Homeless Due To Disastrous Fire

Miss Sybil Conery, executive-secretary of The Save The Children Fund, who last week visited Kelowna in an effort to stimulate interest in the organization, received a heart-breaking letter from Pusan, Korea, upon her return to the coast city.

A letter from Major K. R. Cronin, Save The Children Fund administrator in Korea, stated fire destroyed one of the largest orphanages the STCF has been helping to support.

"There are six to seven thousand children sleeping in the streets of Pusan—53 per cent of them infected with TB," Major Cronin wrote.

Miss Conery, in a letter to the Courier editor says "... I am hoping there will be a little space in your Courier for this short account of the disaster from our administrator. ... He fought in Korea during the war, returned to Britain with the fate of the children of that country on his mind, and when our team went out to help, he joined it. This is his second term as administrator. ..."

Local residents who may wish to send financial assistance, may address letters to Miss Conery, Suite 11, 817 Granville Street, Vancouver.

Major Cronin wrote: "This latest fire is a great disaster for all concerned but although a body blow for the team the team office was destroyed I cannot

Australian Smashes Existing World Record For The Mile Run

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Herb Elliott of Australia possessed a world record mile run today but there was doubt about him getting it in the books.

He ran the distance in a stunning 3:57.8 in the Coliseum relay Friday night, beating the recognized world mark held by fellow Australian John Landy by two-tenths of a second.

There was grave suspicion that the International Amateur Athletic Federation might cast a skeptical eye at Elliott's magnificent performance because of the pace-setting job done by an unheralded Texas runner, Drew Dunlap, Dunlap, not listed on the official program, jogged into the lead at the start and stayed there until just after the half-mile point when he suddenly stepped out of the race.

Track experts said they were astonished that officials should even think of submitting Elliott's time for consideration. But meet referee Larry Moustou implied it will be submitted.

ANOTHER RECORD

Soon after Elliott's run a University of California quartet broke the world mark for the two-mile relay.

Jack Yerman, Harry Siebert, Maynard Orme and Don Bowden, had a time of 7:20.9. Michigan State finished second in 7:21.4. Both times bettered the world mark of 7:22.8 by a team from Occidental College in California last May.

Elliott, a 20-year-old student, said he'd like to see England's Derek Ibbotson recognized as the world record holder. Ibbotson ran a 3:57.2 last year but the time has not been recognized—although it still could be—because of pace setting.

"This means I may have a world record pending," the 146-pound Elliott said. "But I'd be happier if Derek Ibbotson gets his record. He deserves it."

Herb was clocked at 3:00.3 at the end of the third lap. The crowd of 31,656 was stirred to a run the mile in under four minutes.

Another Australian, Merv Linso, called impossible four-minute mile had been beaten since Roger Hind Elliott in 4:01. Lazo Tabori, Bannister of England broke an exile from Hungary, was third through at Oxford, England, May 6, 1954.

Elliott would not comment on what effect Dunlap's pacing may have had on him. Officials did not explain Dunlap's late entry, except to say he had been off-happier if Derek Ibbotson gets cially entered in the field during the afternoon.

It was the fourth time in Elliott's brief career that he had been beaten by a runner who had attacked to the subject of twirling and, perhaps, this is the reason fans all too often overlook the fact eight other players are members of the team.

Baltimore Orioles' general manager Paul Richards recently said "the big thing in pitching is the ability to fan the batter." He went on to declare 75 per cent of a pitcher's stuff has to be directed toward strikes, and if the moundman is unable to achieve that percentage, he is "not eligible for that particular league."

DIAMOND DUST

By NORM GOTRO
(Pinch-Hitting for George Inglis)

Pitching in any league is a highly important business. But it is not the whole ball game as some would have us believe. A great deal of glamorous prose and fanfare has been attached to the subject of twirling and, perhaps, this is the reason fans all too often overlook the fact eight other players are members of the team.

Baltimore Orioles' general manager Paul Richards recently said "the big thing in pitching is the ability to fan the batter." He went on to declare 75 per cent of a pitcher's stuff has to be directed toward strikes, and if the moundman is unable to achieve that percentage, he is "not eligible for that particular league."

Mr. Richards' estimates—and he is supported by most baseball writers—that a maximum of five crises can occur in any nine-inning game without recourse to the bull pen.

Richards maintains that "between tough spots, the pitcher sort of coasts, relaxes, facing a steady strike-throwing proposition." There are few times, he argues, when a pitcher is called upon to "pitch his guts out."

Shag Shaughnessy, of Montreal Royals, now president of the International League, also adheres to this philosophy, but when Royals won the Little World Series in 1946, Shag declared that while good hurling had brought the Royals a long way, "the team lost the championship for the Kentucky Colonels."

There was more than just a kernel of truth in that keen observation.

TEAM MIND AGAINST THE PITCHER

Some background facts will illustrate Shag's point. The first Kentucky player to get off the train in Montreal in the late Fall was this baseman.

Here is what this scribe saw and heard:
He put his toe outside, wiggled it, came out slowly, shuddered, then growled: "Brrrrrrrr—we're going to be playing in snowdrifts—that's it—it'll ruin us—we've lost the series already!"

He was overheard by at least a half-dozen team-mates, who passed the word along before the manager intervened and ordered him to "shut your big trap before you bust everybody's morale!"

Well—to make a long story short—the poison spread before the team hit the diamond. The Americans put up a gallant fight—make no mistake, they played baseball—but all the intestinal fortitude of an armload of pitchers couldn't restore that fine baseball team to the little bit of something extra that wins championships. They had made up their minds they were "frozen to death" and the Royals won the cup.

On the other hand, Jackie Robinson, also a Southerner, had long played in International League company with a lot of other Americans. He didn't think the weather ever hurt his playing and in 1947 he left the Royals to join the parent Dodgers club, as fit as a fiddle and with a great IL record behind him.

Robinson, if you asked him, would tell you that ball games are won by a team—by team spirit—by team morale, and that the best way to show appreciation for a good pitcher is to play your position with all your might.

An echo of this philosophy was recorded last Sunday at Summerland, in the Okanagan Mainline Baseball League fixture between Macs and Kelowna Orioles. If baseball is to thrive and grow in this Valley, there will have to be more of this kind of show.

Here were two teams—Orioles and Macs—battling for victory. Orioles trying to hold league supremacy; Macs out to bolster fan enthusiasm by toppling the champs.

The Macs lost by a fly-bite, 9-8, but they won their point. Orioles won by the skin of their teeth and proved a point.

What the Macs won was glory for a young hurler who pitched them out of three holes, just long enough each time for the TEAM to get in there and hit, or take advantage of Oriole errors.

CHAMPS DOWN TO EARTH

The Macs, who came from behind to almost win the game, finally won the applause of their fans, their opponents and the whole Okanagan.

Meanwhile, the point the Orioles proved was that you can't sit back and take for granted the expression "strong team" will awe the other fellow into giving you the game on a silver platter. And you can't let the pitcher do it all.

Before the Sunday game ended, Oriole manager Peters, who suspected all along Macs would be a strong contender, had to have recourse to the bull pen and had to needie Orioles to play harder than ever AS A TEAM. Even then, Blair honestly admits, Orioles almost lost.

So there you have it.

The case of the star hurler "pitching his guts out" and almost winning.

But even in his glory he had to have a team around him to hit.

GOOD FOR BASEBALL

You also have the case of the team whose pitcher (Martino) can't tug home runs when he wants to—but before Orioles could they had to pull up their sox and mesh AS A TEAM BEHIND MARTINO!

Last Sunday's diamond opus was good horseshiding. We look for an even more thrilling contest when Summerland visits here.

Meanwhile, this Sunday (tomorrow) in Elks Stadium here, the Orioles host Princeton. The cellar dwellers face a sobered Kelowna team, who have seven straight wins and no losses at all. We think that if Princeton plays heads-up baseball IN THE FIELD, they may give Orioles a tough contest.

Besides the three circuit clouts by Stunt, homers were hit by Salt Lake City's Ken Christopher and Spokane's Dick Young and Jim Gentile, whose eighth-inning blast came with two men aboard.

Connie Grob, a pitcher who came in as a pinchhitter for the Indians in the last of the ninth, sent the game into extra innings when he whacked out a single to score young and tie the game up at 10-10.

A pinchhit single by San Diego's Eddie Kazak was the undoing of

Only Two Over-200 Games Are Bowled

VICTORIA (CP) — Only two games over 200 were bowled Friday night as the fifth annual Canadian ten-pin singles championships got under way.

The top four bowlers in Canada—representing B.C., Alberta, Manitoba and Saskatchewan, Ontario and Quebec—are rolling for the championship title and an expense-paid trip to the American Bowling Congress masters' tournament in Syracuse, N.Y.

The three-day tourney will see each man bowl four six-pin games for a total pin score, with no handicap of any kind allowed.

Ray Bala of Ontario emerged as a slim leader after the first block of games was rolled Friday night, with a total of 1061.

Wally Iverson of Vancouver was only seven pins back with a 1051 total. Leo Murray of Montreal was next with 1041 and Dick Marinelli of Winnipeg was low with 964.

Murray, substitute Quebec representative, rolled the first game over 200 during the Friday night opener, just squeezing by with a 202. Iverson, representing the two Western provinces, was in four games later with a 208.

The Quebec trundler boasted a 209.8 average going into the game, and Iverson has averages of 189 and 191 in two Vancouver leagues.

"Sad Sam" Catches Fire As Cards Win

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

While the kids have stumbled, Sad Sam Jones, oldest starter on the staff, has caught fire to keep the St. Louis Cardinals on the go in their belated about-face in the National League pennant race.

Jones, a 32-year-old right-hander, ended the Cards' losing streak at seven a week ago. And it was Sam who Friday night pitched a six-hitter to beat Los Angeles 2-0, with the help of Stan Musial's two-run homer.

It was the first Cardinal shut-out of the year, and gave Jones his third straight victory for a 3-3 record.

Milwaukee retained first place, although stopped by rain at Cincinnati. Chicago Cubs clipped second place San Francisco 6-5, and Philadelphia knocked off third place Pittsburgh 8-2.

EIGHTH WIN IN NINE

It was the eighth victory in nine games for the Cardinals, who had but five hits. The Dodgers now are in last place after losing seven of eight.

WHITE SOX COME THROUGH

Chicago White Sox finally gave Billy Pierce some runs and their stubby southpaw ace, who won 55 the past three years, has his first victory of the season.

Pierce allowed six hits, walked three and struck out 10 for a 6-3 decision at Cleveland Friday night.

It was the sixth victory in nine games for Chicago, but the Sox stayed in last place, 7½ games behind New York. The Yankees stretched their American League lead to five games over second place Washington by belting the Senators 7-2.

Detroit blew a three-run lead and lost 5-3 at Kansas City. Baltimore and Boston were idled by rain.

The White Sox matched their run total in Pierce's three defeats in the first inning, and counted another in the second.

LOST TWO

Pierce had lost two to the Indians this season after beating them six times while gaining his second successive 20-victory year in 1957. He gave up homers to Bobby Avila, in the fifth, and Minnie Mino in the eighth.
